Introduction

The Annual Report on Corporate Governance of Telefónica, S.A. (hereinafter “Telefónica” or the “Company”) for financial year 2003, approved by its Board of Directors, at its meeting held on 25th February 2004, after the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee report, aims to provide a detailed explanation of the structures of the corporate governance system of Telefónica and its practical operation to inform its shareholders and investors.

The Board of Directors provides the shareholders this Report, in fulfilment of the obligation established under “Act 26/2003, of 17th July, that amends Act 24/1988, of 28th July on the Stock Exchange, and the reviewed text of the Spanish Companies Act, approved by Royal Decree 1564/1989, of 22nd December, in order to reinforce the transparency of the Spanish listed companies” (Transparency Act). In any case, one must point out that the Company already published a first Report on Corporate Governance relating to financial year 2002, prior to this report legally required.

In preparing this Report, the provisions of said Act 26/2003 have been complied with, as well as the provisions complementing such Act in “Order/3722/2003, of 26th December, on the annual report on corporate governance and other information instruments for listed companies and other firms”. Moreover, information has been included on other matters that may be of interest to shareholders and investors, such as that on the work carried out by the Board of Directors and its Sub-committees during financial year 2003, or that related to the channels of information between the Company and the market. One must point out that all the data contained in this Report refers to the financial year ended on 31st December 2003, except in the matters for which another specific date of reference is provided.

This Report also states the degree of implementation of Corporate Governance practices in other listed companies within the Telefónica Group. In this sense, one must point out that this Group has a total of 21 listed companies of six different nationalities and Telefónica has been the driving force to ensure all these companies fulfil minimum standards of common corporate governance, regardless of their nationality and the markets they are listed on, just as detailed in section 7.2 of this Report. On the other hand, the three Spanish listed companies in the Group have prepared their respective Reports on Corporate Governance to an identical structure to this Report, in order to provide the shareholders homogeneous information in the matter, respecting, in all cases, the autonomy of decision of their respective governing and executive bodies.

The fundamental principles of Telefónica’s corporate governance are set forth in its Articles of Association and the Regulations of its Board of Directors. Both documents are available to the shareholders and investors at the Company registered office and on its web page.

Shareholding structure

02.01 SHARE CAPITAL

On the date of this Report, the share capital of Telefónica, subscribed and fully paid up, amounted to 4,955,891,361 euros, and it is divided into 4,955,891,361 shares of one euro face value each.

All the Telefónica shares are ordinary, of a sole series, and are represented by account entries.

The shares are fully subscribed and paid up and grant the same rights and obligations to all shareholders. Telefónica shareholders do not have any accessory rights whatsoever. Likewise, the Articles of Association of Telefónica contain no provision on privileges, special powers or rights arising from the holding of shares. Moreover, there are no statutory articles that impose any restriction or limitation on the free transfer of the Telefónica's shares.

Regardless of this, by virtue of what is set forth in "Act 5/1995, of 23rd March, on the legal regime for the disposal of state shareholdings in certain companies", the Council of Ministers approved "Royal Decree 8/1997, of 10th January, an Application of the Regime of prior Administrative Authorisation for Telefónica and other companies in its Group" in which it established the need to request administrative authorisation prior to Telefónica adopting certain resolutions, especially relevant ones, once the State shareholding had totally disappeared. Acquisition of shares in Telefónica was also subject to the regime of prior administrative authorisation when giving rise to disposal of at least 10 per cent of the relevant stock capital.

After amendment of "Act 5/1995, of 23rd March on the legal regime of disposal of state shareholdings in certain companies" introduced by "Act 6/2003, of 30th December (Accompanying Act)", there is now, in force as of 18th February 2007, a regime of administrative intervention (need for notification and power of veto by the Spanish State) in relation to acts of disposal of shares of Telefónica that represent at least 10 per cent of its share capital.

Lastly, and pursuant to the terms set forth in the Company's Articles of Association, no shareholder may cast a number of votes exceeding 10 per cent of the total Company's share capital with the right to vote existing at each moment, regardless of the number of the shares held. When determining the maximum number of votes each shareholder may cast, only the shares each one is holder of shall be calculated, not including those of other holders who have delegated representation on the former.

The limitation established in the preceding paragraph shall also be applicable to the maximum number of votes that maybe cast – jointly or separately – by two or more shareholder companies belonging to a same group of companies, as well as the maximum number of votes that may be cast by a shareholding individual or corporation and the entity or entities that control these directly or indirectly control these.

Considering the total stock capital of Telefónica, and in relation to its present shareholding structure, that limit to the number votes established in its Articles of Association lacks application in practice, as at present there is no shareholder with a direct or indirect shareholding exceeding 7 per cent of the share capital.

(1) As there is no register of shareholders of the Company, the last data that could be obtained by Telefónica is that included in the X-25 requested from Iberclear when the last Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of the Company was held.

02.02 SIGNIFICANT SHAREHOLDINGS

To the extent that the Telefónica shares are represented by account entries, there thus being no record of shareholders kept by the Company itself, it is not possible to precisely ascertain its shareholding structure.

In any case, according to the existing information at the Company, one may say that there is no individual or corporation that directly or indirectly, alone or jointly, exercises, or may exercise control over Telefónica, on the terms established in article 4 of the Securities Markets Act.

There are, however, certain shareholders who hold stakes that may be considered significant, in the sense of Ministerial Order 3722/2003, of 26th December, (see Table 1, Significant Shareholdings).

According to the information available to the Company, during financial year 2003, there were no significant changes in its capital structure.

In relation to these significant shareholders, the persons identified in chapter III of this Report have been proposed as members of the Board of Directors.

In addition to these significant stakes held on stable terms, according to the notification issued to the National Stock Exchange Commission on 8th January 2003, the financial institution Chase Manhattan Nominees Ltd., held a stake of 6.80% in the stock capital of Telefónica, as depository entity, so that stake is held in name and on behalf of its customers.

Moreover, on 6th February 2004, the financial institution Citibank, NA held 242,688,336 shares in Telefónica that represented 4.9% of its stock capital, according to the internal reports prepared by the Company itself. That stake is held as established in the Depository Agreement granted between the Company and Citibank NA, in name and on behalf of the holders of ADRs, for the purposes of issue and trading of those societies on the New York Stock Exchange and the Stock Exchange of Lima. According to the terms of that agreement, Citibank N.A. is obliged to exercise the political and economic rights it holds according to the instructions it is sent by the holders of ADRs, on the terms and conditions established in the depository agreement.

According to the information obtained from “Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores” (Securities, Recording, Clearing and Settlement Systems Management Company) (Iberclear), dated April 2003¹, the number of shareholders of Telefónica, according to individualised records in favour of individuals and corporations, amounted to approximately 1,693,049 shareholders.

02.03 RELATIONS WITH SIGNIFICANT SHAREHOLDERS

The Company maintains ordinary commercial relations with both significant shareholders, in relation to which detailed information is provided in section 4.1 of this Report. These operations are performed under market conditions, subject to the requisites concerning transactions with significant shareholders established in the Regulations of the Board of Directors.

As to the corporate relations there may be with these shareholders, it is pointed out, in relation to

Structure of the Board of Directors

The rules of organisation and operation of the Company's Board of Directors, and its Sub-committees are set forth in the Company's Articles of Association and in the Regulations of its Board of Directors. Both documents are available to all the shareholders and investors, at the registered office of the Company and on its web page.

03.01 COMPOSITION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Telefónica's Articles of Association foresee that the Board of Directors shall be comprised of a minimum of five and a maximum of twenty members, who shall be appointed by the General Shareholders' Meeting. Provisionally, according to the provisions contained in the Spanish Companies Act and in the Articles of Association, the Board of Directors may cover existing vacancies by co-option.

Telefónica's Board of Directors is now comprised of nineteen Directors, a number that is considered adequate to ensure effective operation, considering the complexity of the Group the company heads, the significant number of companies that comprise it, the variety of sectors in which it carries out its activity, its multinational nature, as well as its economic and corporate relevance.

As of the date of this Report, the Board of Directors of Telefónica is comprised of the following persons (see Table 4, Composition of the Board of Directors).

On the other hand, as of the date of this Report, the positions held by the Directors on the Board sub-committees are specified in the following Table 5.

As to the status of the Directors, the composition of the Board of Directors of Telefónica fully complies with the recommendations in matters of corporate governance, as it includes a significant number of independent Directors (eight) and external Directors (proprietary and independent) forming an wide majority over the executive ones (fourteen to five). Lastly, the independent Directors are in majority in relation to the proprietary ones (eight to six).

The Regulations of the Board of Directors cover the main rights and obligations of the members of the Board, especially those arising from the fundamental duties of diligence and loyalty.

03.02 RULES OF ORGANISATION AND OPERATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.2.1 Procedures for selection, appointment and removal of Directors

The main principles of organisation and operation of the Board of Directors are set forth in the Articles of Association and Regulations of the actual Board, approved on 29th January 1997 and amended on 22nd July 1998, which is available for consultation at the registered office of the Company and on its web page. Those Regulations also regulate the organisation and operation of the Executive Committee and the Board sub-committees.

As already mentioned, according to the Articles of Association, the Board of Directors will be comprised of a minimum of five and a maximum of twenty members.

The proposals for appointment of Directors must be preceded by a favourable report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, which shall not be binding.

In this sense, one must point out that the appointment of Directors at Telefónica is subject, as a general rule, to the decision of the General Shareholders' Meeting. Only on certain occasions when it is indispensable due to vacancies arising since the last General Shareholders' Meeting, may it proceed, as established in the Spanish Companies Act, to appointment by co-option, with a prior report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, that decision being ratified, in all cases, by the first General Shareholders' Meeting held thereafter.

The only appointment by co-option performed during financial year 2003 was submitted by the Board of Directors for ratification to the General Shareholders' Meeting and was granted a favourable report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee. That appointment was ratified by the Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting held on 11th April 2003 that also approved appointment of another two members of the Board.

The appointment of external or non-executive Directors must be assigned to persons of recognised solvency, competency and professional experience, who are willing to dedicate a sufficient amount of their time to the Company, being extremely thorough in relation to the selection of the persons called to cover an independent Director position.

As to the appointment of independent Directors, the Regulations of the Board of Directors establishes that it may not propose or appoint to cover an independent Director position any person who has, or who has had a stable relation of certain relevance with the management of the Company, or who are linked for family, professional or commercial reasons to any of the executive Directors or other top management of the Company, and must also lack stable relations with the proprietary Directors and with the entities or corporate groups represented by them.

The Directors are appointed for a period of five (5) years and may be re-elected one or more times for equal times of maximum duration, and must submit their letter of resignation to the Board of Directors when they reach the age of seventy (70) years. The executive Directors shall cease to hold office when they reach the age of sixty five (65), although they may continue to be Directors if so decided by the Board itself.

Besides, the Directors must hand in their resignation to the Board of Directors and formalise the relevant resignation: (i) when they cease to hold the executive post linked to their appointment as Director, or when the reasons for which they were appointed disappear, (ii) when they incur in any legally foreseen causes of incompatibility or prohibition, (iii) when they receive a severe admonition by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee due to having failed to fulfil any of their obligations as Directors, or (iv) when their remaining on the Board may affect the credibility or reputation the Company has on the markets, or put its interests at risk in any other way.

3.2.2 Operation of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is the supervisory and controlling body of the Company's activity and exercises specific responsibilities in relation to the strategy and direction of the business and co-ordination of its Group of companies, entrusting ordinary management of its business to the executive bodies and management team.

The Articles of Association and Regulations of the Board of Directors foresee that the Board of Directors shall hold its ordinary meeting once a month and, at the initiative of the Chairman, as often as deemed appropriate for proper running of the Company. According to this, the Board of Directors sets an annual calendar of ordinary meetings. During financial year 2003, the Board of Directors of Telefónica held 13 meetings – 11 of them ordinary and two extraordinary – of approximately four hours duration each.

As established in the Regulations of the Board, and except in cases in which another quorum has specifically been set, the resolutions shall be adopted by the majority of the Directors appearing at the meeting, present or represented.

In order to guarantee adequate preparation of the sessions and in order for the members of the Board to have all the necessary information, the sessions have a pre-established Agenda, which is notified at least three days before the date set for the meeting to be held, along with the calling of the session. To that same end, the Directors are sent the documentation related to the Agenda sufficiently in advance, it being completed with the documentation and written presentations that are provided when holding the meeting.

To provide the necessary information and clarifications in relation to some of the matters dealt with, practically all the meetings of the Board held in 2003 were attended by the main executives of the Group, to matters within their remit.

In order to provide information on the activity carried out by this body during financial year 2003, it is pointed out that the Board of Directors of Telefónica has known, debated or taken the relevant decisions on the matters within its competence, among which the following must be emphasised as the most outstanding:

a) In relation to the Company's finances:

- Results: On a monthly basis, a detailed presentation has been made to the Board summarising the consolidated results of the Telefónica Group and its main Lines of Activity.
- Periodic financial information: The Board has been presented financial information on each quarter, or in each semester, on financial year 2003, prior to its presentation to the Markets and their regulatory Bodies.
- Economic information on Latin America: Given the importance to the Telefónica Group of its interests in Latin America, the Board has periodically monitored the economic situation, as well as the evolution of the business in the countries in that Region in which the Group is present.
- Other matters of a financial nature: The passing of resolutions on financial matters by the Board has always been preceded by the Directors being provided all the relevant information. Thus, during financial year 2003, the following operations, among others, have been considered: issues of bonds by Telefónica Europe, B.V., scheme to issue corporate promissory notes, re-structuring of debt at Telefónica Argentina, S.A., etc.

b) In relation to the business of the Group :

- Strategic aspects and objectives: The Board has deliberated and adopted decisions on strategic aspects and objectives of the Group overall, and of its main Lines of Activity.
- Monitoring the activity: Apart from monitoring the activity and controlling management of the Group business, which is performed monthly when the Board is provided the preview of the consolidated results and the results of each Line of Activity (the Agenda of each meeting contains a point titled "Management Report"), on several occasions throughout financial year 2003 have been subject to a monographic examination of the situation and the objectives and strategies of the diverse business in the Group, with intervention before the actual Group by the top executives of each Line of Activity.
- Regulatory aspects: The Board has been periodically informed and over the last financial year has amply debated the main regulatory matters that affect the telecommunications Operators in the Group. Considering that, during financial year 2003, a new General Telecommunications Act was published in Spain, this new regulatory framework has been analysed in special detail – especially as to fixed telephony –. Consideration has also been given, on diverse occasions, to the regulatory aspects of the

c) In relation to the structure and organisation of the Company:

- Organisational Structure: The Board, following examination and a report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, has considered matters during that financial year related to the organisational structure of the Company and its Group, and has passed major resolutions on restructuring and design of the organisation in the months of September and December 2003.
- Directors and Top Management: The Board, following a report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, passed 15 resolutions during financial year 2003 on appointment of Directors and Top Management.

d) In relation to the internal control systems and other matters:

- Company's market disclosure policy. In addition to the Board having disclosed specific market decisions or operations, at its meeting on 26th March 2003, the Board of Directors approved the Disclosure Controls and procedures Regulation that regulates the processes of communication, both of specific and periodic information, establishing the general principles that must be respected by the Company in its communications.
- Operations with Significant Shareholders: The Board of Directors, following a report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, has considered and approved, as appropriate, transactions with the holders of significant stakes in the Company, in order to fulfil the terms established in the Regulations of the Board of Directors.

Moreover, during financial year 2003, after the appropriate analyses and reports, the Board approved diverse important operations and transactions, among which the following may be emphasised as most relevant:

- Strategic alliance between Telefónica and Terra Lycos to replace the strategic resolution of 16th May 2000, to which the company Bertelsmann A.G. was a party. Moreover, Telefónica, Terra Networks, S.A., Lycos Inc, and Bertelsmann A.G. signed a preferential interest agreement that will continue to allow them to explore opportunities of mutually providing communication services, developments and contents to the “on line” market.
- Integration of the digital satellite television platforms, Via Digital and Canal Satélite Digital, through an agreement between Telefónica de Contenidos, S.A.U., a subsidiary of Telefónica, and Sogetel, S.A.
- Formulation by Telefónica of a Take-over to Acquire all the shares of Terra Networks, S.A. listed on the Spanish securities trading system and the NASDAQ of the United States.
- Process of divestment by Telefónica in relation to its shareholding in Antena 3 de Televisión, S.A., a process that was mandatory to fulfil the terms established in the regulatory laws on private television then in force. That process of divestment was structured through two operations both approved by the Board of Directors of Telefónica. On one hand, the Board of Directors resolved to propose to the Ordinary General Shareholders’ Meeting, held on 11th April 2003, distribution of the Premium Reserve for the Issuance of Shares, by delivery to the Telefónica’s shareholders of shares representing 30% of the Antena 3 share capital; and, on the other hand, at its meeting on 30th April 2003, the Board agreed to accept the offer presented by the Planeta Group for 25.1% of the Antena 3 de Televisión, S.A. share capital.

Furthermore, as to the relation between the Board of Directors and its sub-committees, one must point out – notwithstanding what is detailed in section 3.2 of this Report concerning the activity by these Sub-committees –, that at each ordinary monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, the Chairman of those sub-committees reports to the Board on the activity and main tasks and actions carried out by these during the period immediately preceding; to which end, the Agenda of practically all the ordinary sessions of the Board includes a point called “Activities by the Board of Directors sub-committees”.

3.2.3 The Executive Committee

The Board of Directors, as well as subject to the legal provisions in force, has delegated its powers and attributes, except those that may not be delegated by law or statute, upon a Executive Committee. That Committee provides the Board of Directors greater operativity and efficiency in performing its duties, providing it the necessary support through the work it carries out, especially to the extent that its composition is smaller than that of the Board and it meets more frequently than it.

The relations between both bodies are based on a principle of transparency, so the Board always has full knowledge of the decisions adopted by this Committee. Thus, the Board of Directors is informed at each of its meetings of all the resolutions passed by the Executive Committee, to which end a summary of the Minutes of the meetings of that Committee are distributed to all the Directors, also proceeding to ratify those resolutions.

On the date of this Report, the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors is formed by the following persons:

Members	Date of appointment
Mr César Alierta Izuel, Chairman	27 January 1999
Mr Isidro Fainé Casas, Vice-Chairman	26 January 1994
Mr Jesús María Cadenato Matía, Spokesman	30 April 2003
Mr Maximino Carpio García, Spokesman	25 October 2000

Mr Antonio Viana-Baptista, Spokesman	23 February 2000
Mr Gregorio Villalabeitia Galarra, Spokesman	27 February 2002

The rules of operation of this Committee are set forth in the Regulations of the Board, which govern its composition, operation, and its relation to the Board of Directors.

Resolutions will be passed by the majority of the Directors attending, and the Chairman shall cast the deciding vote. The acting Chairman and Secretary to the Executive Committee shall be the same persons as hold these offices on the Board of Directors.

The meetings of the Executive Committee shall be called at least three days before the date foreseen to hold them (normally, they are sent out on the Friday prior to the Committee meeting, which takes place on Wednesday), and that calling includes an advance on the foreseeable Agenda of the meeting.

The Regulations of the Board foresee that the Committee shall hold its ordinary meetings every fifteen days, and as often as called by its Chairman. In 2003, the Executive Committee held 19 meetings, with an average length of 3 hours, most meetings having the intervention of the main Executives of the Group to explain matters related to their respective area of competence. No external advisors have attended the meetings of the Executive Committee.

During financial year 2003, the Committee has examined, in addition to matters related to the ordinary management of the Company, matters related to investment and divestment operations by the Company, and other strategic matters.

3.2.4 Other Committees of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors of Telefónica has the following sub-committees:

- The Audit and Control Committee,
- The Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee,
- The Human Resources and Corporate Reputation Committee,
- The Regulation Committee,

- The Service Quality and Customer Service Committee, and
- The International Affairs Committee.

3.2.4.1 Audit and Control Committee

AS of the date of this Report, this Committee is formed by the following members:

Members	Date of appointment
Mr Antonio Massanell Lavilla, Chairman	30 August 2000
Mr Maximino Carpio García, Spokesman	29 January 1997
Mr José Antonio Fernández Rivero, Spokesman	12 April 2002
Mr Gonzalo Hinojosa Fernández de Angulo, Spokesman	26 June 2002

All the members of the Audit and Control Committee are non executive Directors. Moreover, according to the most recent international recommendations in this matter, all the members of this Committee have financial training, specifically, its Chairman has ample professional experience in financial and accounting matters. The General Vice-Secretary and Vice-Secretary to the Board of Directors, Mr Ramiro Sánchez de Lerín, is the acting Secretary of this Committee.

As to the object and duties of this Committee, one must mention that the Board of Directors of the Company, in fulfilment of the obligation established by "Act 44/2002, of 22nd November, on Measures to Reform the Financial System" – additional provision eighteen –, submitted introduction of a new article 31 bis to the Articles of Association for approval by the Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting held on 11th April 2003, that grants statutory rank to that Committee and regulates its composition and minimum competencies, pursuant to the new legal requisites. That Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting approved that amendment to the Articles of Association with sufficient majority of capital.

The Audit and Control Committee has a fundamental role in supervising the process of preparation and reporting of the Company's financial information, acting as the controller and co-ordinator of the different players involved in them. In that sense, its work is aimed at four fundamental matters:

1. To know the process of financial information and evaluate the system for accounting verification of the Company,
2. To safeguard the independence of the External Auditor, supervising its work and providing a channel for communication between the Board of Directors and External Auditor, between it and the management team of the Company.
3. To supervise the internal audit services and
4. To supervise the adequacy and integrity of the internal control systems for financial information.

According to what is provided in said article 31 bis of the Articles of Association, the Audit and Control Committee must meet at least once a quarter and as often as appropriate, when called by the Chairman, at his own decision, or when requested by two of its members or the Executive Committee. The Audit and Control Committee is validly constituted by direct attendance, or representation of at least half its members, and it passes its resolutions by majority of those present. In the event of a draw, the Chairman shall cast the deciding vote.

However, in order to hold a greater number of meetings, the Audit and Control Committee resolved, for financial year 2003, to meet at least ten times a year, to which end it prepared a schedule of meetings, arranging to meet on the Friday prior to the week when the Board of Directors of Telefónica meets. That Committee has also met when the circumstances and matters to be dealt with have so required. Thus, during financial year 2003, the Audit and Control Committee held thirteen meetings.

The meetings were held according to the pre-established Agenda and sent to the members of the Committee in advance, along with the calling to each meeting. The deliberations by that Committee and the resolutions and decisions passed by it are documented in the minutes of each meeting.

These meetings were regularly attended by the partner responsible for the Telefónica's Accounts Auditor to explain and clarify, at the requirement of the Committee, aspects of the audit report and the work performed by the External Auditor. Moreover, at the requirement of the Committee, other members of the management team of the Company and its subsidiaries have participated to explain specific matters that affect their respective areas of competency. Specifically, participation by those responsible for the financial area and accounting consolidation as well as those responsible for internal audit is emphasised. The members of the Committee held separate meetings with each of the contacts when this was considered necessary.

To better perform its duties, and just as expressly set forth in the Regulations of the Board, the Auditing and Control Committee may obtain the advice of external experts. The Committee has not made direct use of this right, although it has dedicated some of its meetings to analyse specific matters that required more in-depth knowledge, which were presented by experts at the Company or by the External Auditor.

On the other hand, the Audit and Control Committee dedicated a monographic session in the month of July to review its own operation and activity, taking the aforementioned legislative novelties into account. Due to that meeting, the Audit and Control Committee approved an annual plan of activities, in which the main matters that must be dealt with by this Committee were dealt with during each financial year, in relation to the following matters: (i) External Auditor, (ii) examination of the integrity of the Financial Statements, (iii) internal auditing and control systems, and (iv) intra-group relations.

Specifically, as to the work carried out by this Committee during financial year 2003, the following matters are emphasised:

(i) In matters of financial-accounting information

- As to the Annual Accounts and the Management Report, the Audit and Control Committee analysed and debated the most relevant aspects at the end of financial year 2002, with special attention to the accounting of the main operations performed during that financial year.

(2) Act 44/2002, of 22nd November, on Measures for the Reform of the Financial System ("Financial Act"), and Act 26/2003, of 17th July, that amends Act 24/1988, of 28th July, on the Stock Market, and the remodelled text of the Stock Company Act, approved by Legislative Royal Decree 1564/1989, of 22nd December, in order to reinforce the transparency of the Spanish listed companies ("Transparency Act").

- This Committee has also been informed, prior to their public disclosure, on the quarterly and semester results of the Company.

(ii) In relation to the External Auditor

- The Committee analysed the proposal of appointment of the Accounts Auditor to Telefónica and its consolidated Group of companies, later raising that proposal to the Board of Directors, in order for it propose its appointment to the Ordinary General Shareholders' Meeting.
- In one of the meetings of this Committee, the External Auditor provided a report on the relations between it and the Telefónica Group, as well as its view of the actual duties of the External Auditor in keeping with the legislative changes that had taken place up to date.
- On the other hand, after publication of the regulations implementing the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in matters of External Auditor independence, the Committee considered its obligations in the matter and ordered the procedures to engage the External Auditor to the Group to provide any kind of permitted service. Thus, the Committee has approved, after analysis and justification, the provision by the Accounts Auditor to the Company of certain non-audit services.
- The Committee approved the fees of the External Auditor, in relation to the actual work auditing the annual accounts, as well as to perform audit related or other kind of services.

(iii) In relation to internal control and internal audit and intervention matters.

- The Committee has been informed in detail of the actions carried out by the internal audit and intervention units of the Group.

- The Committee has analysed the risk map of the Group and its control model, and it has been informed of the evaluations made from the internal audit services on the operation of the systems aiming at controlling the information reported by the Company to the markets, and on the financial-accounting information control systems.

- Likewise, in the first session of the year, the internal audit services presented their annual plan, and in October the Committee considered the proposal for orientation of the work by the internal auditor for financial year 2004. Moreover, the Committee was informed in several different sessions of specific situations related to the work performed by these services.

(iv) Other matters of interest analysed by the Audit and Control Committee.

- Analysis of the most relevant legislative and regulatory novelties that may affect the Company, either Spanish² or foreign, with special attention in the latter case to the regulations published by the SEC implementing the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.
- Presentation and information on the "Audit Committees Information System" (e-SICA) – a computer system through which the members of the Committee are kept permanently up to date with the work being performed by the Audit and Control units without detracting from the confidentiality of the information – and the "System for self-evaluation of internal control” – a system that aims to provide a measure of the internal control of all the companies of the Telefónica Group, by the managers filling out questionnaires adapted specifically to the Group.

- Analysis of the present situation of the new International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).
- Presentation on Computer Auditing: evolution of the activity and plans for financial year 2004.

At the request of the Chairman of Telefónica, in the first quarter of the year, the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee reported on the Top Management bonuses for financial year 2002, and in 2003 a significant reduction was applied in relation to the economic results of the Group, that had an especial effect on the Chairman and Managing Director.

Likewise, in fulfilment of one of the main recommendations of Corporate Governance, an evaluation of the Directors' compensation for financial year 2003 has been undertaken, according to the terms set forth in article 28 of the Articles of Association, and collaboration has been requested, as in preceding years, by a specialised external consultant, to prepare a report on the listed companies

Board members compensation.

Throughout financial year 2003, modifications have been presented on two occasions in the Organisational Structure of the Telefónica Group by the Chairman of the Company, proceeding to study, analyse this and issue the favourable report required by the Regulations of the Board.

In fulfilment of its basic responsibility, throughout 2003, this Committee has reported on the appointment by co-option of a Board of Directors member and on the creation of a new Board of Directors sub-committee, the International Affairs Committee.

Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee provided a favourable report on the Regulations on Communication of Information to the Markets, prepared due to the need to comply with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, and according to the commitment acquired by the Board of Directors at the last General Shareholders' Meeting to adopt the best corporate governance practices.

(3) Moreover, one of the members of the Board of Directors, who is not resident in Spain, receives an additional annual assignment of 60,101.21 euros, due to the special interest he has to the Company due to his experience and dedication in relation to Latin America.

03.03 REMUNERATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEMBERS

The remuneration of the Directors of Telefónica consists of a fixed monthly allowance and per diems for attending the meetings of the Board sub-committees. Executive Directors may also receive the relevant fees for performing their executive duties.

Their regulation is set forth in article 28 of the Articles of Association, that indicate that the sum of the remuneration to be paid by the Company to the Board of Directors is set by the General Shareholders' Meeting, it being the actual Board of Directors which later distributes that sum among the different Directors. In that sense, the General Shareholders' Meeting held on 11th April 2003, set the annual maximum gross sum of remuneration to be received by the Board of Directors at 6 million euros, for fixed assignment and per diems for attending the meetings of the Board sub-committees. In that sense, we may point out that, in line with the best practices in this field, remuneration of the Directors is linked to results.

The total amount of remuneration received by the Directors of Telefónica during financial year 2003 amounted to 10,900,943.98 euros: 3,339,958.34 euros by fixed assignment, including the remuneration received for belonging to the Board of Directors of other companies in the Telefónica Group; 120,247.86 euros in per diems for attending the meetings of the Board sub-committees, including per diems for attending the sub-committees of Boards of Directors of other companies in the Telefónica Group; 7,275,864.86 euros in wages and variable remuneration of the executive Directors; 114,872.92 euros in remuneration in kind in favour of executive Directors, that include life insurance premiums; and 50,000 euros in contributions by the Company, as promoter, and in favour of the executive Directors, to pension schemes.

The executive Directors Mr César Alierta Izuel, Mr Fernando Abril-Martorell Hernández (who presented his resignation from the position of Managing Director of the Company on 24th September 2003), Mr Antonio J. Alonso Ureba, and Mr Luis Lada Díaz, acting as directors of the Telefónica Group, were the beneficiaries of a remuneration scheme linked to the listed value of the Telefónica share, for the directors of the Group, called "Plan TOP", the term of which ended during financial year 2003, without them exercising their options to Telefónica shares that were the object of that scheme, so those options were extinguished and became void. The cost to Telefónica of that remuneration scheme during financial year 2003, as to the Executive Directors participating in it, amounted to 1.02 million euros.

Moreover, one must point out that during 2003 the non executive Directors did not receive any remuneration whatsoever in pensions or life insurance, nor did they participate in remuneration schemes linked to the listed value of the shares.

Lastly, the Company does not grant, nor has it granted during 2003, any advances, loans or credits whatsoever to the Directors, nor to any of its main executives, in fulfilment of the requisites of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act published in the United States, which is applicable to Telefónica as a company listed on that market.

Information on related transactions and intragroup operations

04.01 OPERATIONS PERFORMED WITH SIGNIFICANT SHAREHOLDERS

As to operations with significant shareholders, the Company has established control measures set forth under the Regulations of the Board of Directors, so it formally reserves knowledge and authorisation of any transaction between the Company and any of its significant shareholders, as well as following a report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee to analyse and evaluate the operation from the point of view of parity in treatment of the shareholders and the market conditions of the same. Moreover, the Directors related to those shareholders are obliged to abstain from the deliberation of those matters.

The two shareholders of Significant Stakes in the stock capital of Telefónica are financial institutions. According to this, the Company has performed operations with both companies within their ordinary activity, and always on market conditions. Thus, during financial year 2003, the types of operations performed were as follows:

a) As to the usual treasury transactions:

- Formalisation/renewal of financing lines.
- Formalisation of renting lines.
- Formalisation of factoring lines.
- Formalisation of banking services agreements: collection and payment of commercial and financial nature, administration and custody of bank guarantees, custody of securities, credit cards, etc.

- Temporary Financial Investments, to place treasury surplus.
- Sale of promissory notes of the company according to the Telefónica Promissory Notes Issue Programme.

b) As to capital markets transactions:

- Formalisation of bonds or any other debt instrument under any debt programme by Telefónica.
- Formalisation of operations with convertible or exchangeable bonds, own shares, shares of companies in the Group and financial stakes.
- Formalisation of syndicated loans.
- Formalisation of guarantees.
- Formalisation of derivative operations on interest rates, exchange rates, political risk or credit risk.
- Intermediation operations in stock exchange operations.

During financial year 2003, apart from operations aforementioned, the relevant operations by the Company performed with any of its significant shareholders, were as follows:

Restructuring of the debt of Telefónica Data Colombia with BBVA Banco Ganadero

The Board of Directors of Telefónica – following a favourable report of its Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee –, resolved on 29th January 2003, to approve the restructuring of the debt that

(4) To these ends, and pursuant to the terms of Royal Decree 377/1991, of 15th March, the term executive shall be understood to mean general managers and similar who have top management duties reporting directly to the governing bodies, executive commissions or Managing Directors of the listed company.

Telefónica Data Colombia had with the Colombian institution BBVA Banco Ganadero, amounting to 26.051 million Colombian pesos (approximately 9 million euros), by novation of part of the loans granted by that Bank (amounting to approximately half that debt) and capitalisation of an amount approximately equivalent to 4.5 million euros, that involved subscription by the said creditor Bank of shares representing 35% of the stock capital of Telefónica Data Colombia.

Loan by BBVA to Telefónica Data Colombia

As resolved by the Board of Directors of Telefónica on 30th April 2003 – passed following a favourable report of its Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee –, Telefónica Data Colombia was authorised to apply for and obtain a loan from BBVA of the sum of 5 million US dollars.

Appointment of Agent Entities to distribute the shares of Antena 3

On 24th September 2003, following a favourable report of the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, the Board of Directors of Telefónica approved the hiring of BBVA and La Caixa to act as Agent Entities to distribute the shares of Antena 3 de Televisión, S.A. among the shareholders of Telefónica.

04.02 OPERATIONS PERFORMED WITH THE DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVES OF THE COMPANY AND OF THE GROUP

According to the information provided by the Company, no member of its Board of Directors, nor any executive⁴ of the Company, has performed operations with the Company in the course of the last financial year.

In this sense, one must point out that, according to the terms established in the Regulations of the Board, the Directors must abstain from intervening in deliberations that affect matters in which they have a direct or indirect interest, or when they affect a member of their family or a company in which they have an executive office, or hold a significant stake in its share capital. Likewise, the Director may not directly or indirectly perform professional or commercial transactions with Telefónica, or with any of the companies in the Group, unless the Board of Directors, with the abstention of the Director affected, approves the transaction with the favourable vote of at least 90% of the Directors present, and following a report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee.

Moreover, one must state that, as established in the Internal Code of Conduct for Securities Markets Issues of Telefónica, the Company directors are obliged to (a) act at all times with loyalty to the Group and to its shareholders, regardless of their own interests or those of others; (b) to abstain from intervening in or influencing any decision making that may affect the persons or entities with which conflict exists; and (c) to abstain from accessing information classified as confidential that affects that conflict. Moreover, these persons are under the obligation to inform the Regulatory Compliance Unit of the Company of such situations that may potentially lead to any conflict of interests.

04.03 SIGNIFICANT OPERATIONS PERFORMED WITH OTHER COMPANIES BELONGING TO THE SAME GROUP

Telefónica is the parent company that heads a Group of companies that perform their corporate object through their stake in these companies. According to the organisational structure of the Group and its co-ordination policies, one must point out that, among others, its financial policy and, in some cases, the actual financial management is centralised through that parent company. According to this, most of the operations performed by the Company with the companies belonging to its Group are operations of a financial nature, to cover their needs for funds and coverage of interest rate and exchange rate risks.

According to this, as to financial year 2003, as recorded in the individual Annual Accounts of Telefónica ended on 31st December 2003, the total credits to companies in the Group amounted to 23,719.81 million euros, while the debt with companies in the Group and associates amounted to 25,512.67 million euros.

As to the balances with associated companies, one must point out that on 31st December 2003, the financing provided to Sogecable, S.A. according to the commitments acquired in the agreements signed in relation to integration of the satellite platforms, the headings "Other credits" long term and "Credits to associated companies" short term on the Consolidated Balance sheet at 31st December 2003, include an amount of 222.49 and 9.27 million euros, respectively, with that company. Moreover, one must point out a long term balance of 64.65 million euros with Medi Telecom and a short term balance with Ipse 2000, amounting to 280.58 million euros.

Likewise, attention is drawn to the headings "Debtor associated companies" and "Debts to associated companies" amounting to 48.18 and 26.74 million euros, respectively, for the companies in the Group Brasilcel. In relation to Medi Telecom, these sums amounted to 9.33 and 4.21 million euros in each heading.

On the other hand, the amount of sales and services rendered that are recorded in the Profit and Loss Account for the financial year ended on 31st December 2003, are for sales to companies in the Group, mainly the management contract with Telefónica de Argentina, S.A. In that sense, in November 1990, Telefónica and Telefónica de Argentina, S.A. entered into a management agreement in force until 2003, which regulated the advisory services provided by Telefónica and the price of these. The revenue received for that item during financial year 2003 amounted to 28.02 million euros.

Apart from these operations of an ordinary nature, the 2003 Strategic Alliance between Telefónica and Terra Networks, S.A. must be mentioned, as described in the relevant information on the decisions made by the Board of Directors in section 3.2.2 of this Report.

Information on risk control systems

05.01 GENERAL MODEL OF THE RISK CONTROL SYSTEM

Telefónica performs permanent monitoring of the most significant risks of the main companies forming its Group. To do so, the Company has a map recording the risks requiring specific control and monitoring according to their importance. With the same objective of permanent monitoring of the risks identified, in November 2001, Telefónica set up a project aimed at protecting one of the most important assets of the Company: its reputation. To do so, it identified the main risks to the reputation of the Company before its customers, shareholders and investors, employees, suppliers, partners, the media and society at large.

Identification of these risks and processes is performed by the Directorate General of Internal Audit and Management Resources, which is responsible for the Internal Audit department of the Company, and its results are reported periodically to the Audit and Control Committee of Telefónica.

The 50 risks considered by the model are classified in the following categories:

(i) Risks related to the business processes.

- Operational risks
- Integrity risks
- management and human resources risks
- Technological risks
- Financial risks

(ii) Information risks.

- Operating information
- Financial information
- Strategic evaluation

(iii) Risks related to the environment.

(iv) Corporate reputation risks.

In order to establish adequate control systems, Telefónica has a set of rules, approved by the Board of Directors, that regulate the basic aspects of this system, as well as implementation of the control systems. The main internal regulations to these ends will be as follows:

(a) Regulation on the registration, communication and Control of financial/accounting information.

- Recording, communication and control of the financial-accounting information.
- Disclosure controls and procedures regulation.

- Intra-group operations: procedures for recording, payment and conciliation.

(b) Regulations on control over the activities of the Company personnel.

- Travel and hospitality expenses of the executives: limits, justification, reimbursement, etc.

- Regulations on physical safety and information.

(c) Regulations on external representation and links to the Company.

- Payments: segregation of duties, concurrent double signature, bank conciliations, etc.
- Powers of Attorney: to sign contracts, open accounts, withdraw funds, etc.

Thus, Telefónica has certain units with responsibilities for control over specific risks to the Company, such as Risks and Insurance, Reputation, Regulation, Control of Management and Human Resources (labour risks).

Lastly, the Company has an Intervention Unit for control of application of the funds, control of the relevant operations, control of travel and hospitality expenses, implementation of basic controls in the processes of greatest risk, etc.

In another order of things, one must point out that all the companies in the Group have insurance coverage for reasonable protection against the possible risks of damage to the fixed assets assigned to the operations and possible loss of profit arising from this. These policies include certain excesses. Management of that insurance is centralised at Group level within the Subdirectorate General of Corporate Risks and Insurance.

05.02 CONTROLS OVER THE FINANCIAL-ACCOUNTING INFORMATION PROCESS

Within the Company risks, due to its special relevance to investors and shareholders, one must emphasise the control system over the process of financial-accounting information. At Telefónica, that system is regulated through the following manuals, instructions and regulations:

- Manual of Rules for Evaluation and Accounting Policies.
- Instructions for closing and external audit.
- Annual calendar of financial-accounting information.
- Corporate Accounting Plan.
- Manual of the Subsidiary Information System (technical-computing instrument for reporting financial-accounting information and to consolidate the financial statements).
- Rules of intra-group and internal control operations.

The rights of each and every one of the shareholders, in relation to holding the General Shareholders' Meeting, are subject to thorough respect and treatment by the Company, on the terms and conditions established in the applicable laws in force and in the Articles of Association.

Those rights are, apart from to impugn the corporate resolutions passed by the Meeting pursuant to the requisites established in the Act, the right to information, the right to attend and the right to vote.

In order to facilitate and make possible the exercise of the right to information by any shareholder, the proposals of resolutions to be submitted for approval of the Meeting and the documents and mandatory reports related to them, are made available to the shareholders on the terms and conditions established in the Spanish Companies Act, from when the announcements to call the Meeting are published.

Likewise, the Company attends, within the possibilities of the requests for information in relation to the matters on the Agenda of the General Shareholders' Meeting, formulated by any shareholder, in the days immediately prior to holding the Meeting, as well as on the day of the actual Meeting being held, the agenda of which expressly includes a turn for shareholders to speak, in which all shareholders attending the Meeting may speak and their interventions shall always be replied to by the Chairman of the Company.

As to the rights to attend and vote at the General Shareholders' Meeting, the Company facilitates exercise of such right to the greatest extent, always within the framework provided by the applicable laws in force and the Articles of Association, especially that of representation of the shareholders at the General Shareholders' Meeting, which may be granted in favour of any person, even if not a shareholder.

Lastly, the manifestation of respect and guarantee ensured by the Company of the rights of the shareholders in relation to the General Shareholders' Meeting, it must mention, on one hand, that formation of the roll of attendance and calculation of the quorum of attendance for valid constitution of the Meeting are entrusted to a firm of recognised prestige in its sector of activity, that acts subject to accredited professional practice; and on the other hand, that the Board of Directors requires the presence of a Notary Public to take the Minutes of the General Shareholders' Meeting.

06.02 TRANSPARENCY AND DISCLOSURE

Several articles of the Regulations of the Board of Directors of Telefónica are assigned to regulate the channels through which relations are established between the Board of Directors and the shareholders of the Company (of the individual shareholders, as well as the institutional and investment shareholders) so it may thus ensure the greatest possible transparency in those relations.

It also expressly establishes that the Board of Directors, in its relations with the shareholders, is obliged to guarantee equal treatment.

6.2.1 The Shareholders' Office

In order to maintain permanent, exclusive contact with its shareholders, Telefónica has a Shareholders' Office. This service facilitates and discloses all the relevant information for the shareholders and attends specifically to the queries that may be raised by any shareholder, managing them through its call center, its web page, or by mail.

As to the operation of this service during financial year 2003, the following data is provided:

- The number of calls received by Telefónica on the Toll Free Line, 900 111 004 (operates from Monday to Friday, 9 to 19 hours) amounted to 105,936.
- The queries made through the Customer Service Web Site amounted to 2,313.
- On a quarterly basis, more than 660,000 copies were distributed of a publication that provides information on the quarterly results, as well as economic-financial events that may be relevant to the shareholder.
- Individual information was sent by mail to 2,640 addresses and 2,313 queries were attended through the Customer Service Web Site.

Telefónica also participates in specialised Forums on the stock exchanges and other markets (Madrid, Barcelona and Valencia) aimed at the specific investor, where presentations were made on management and the perspectives of the Company and its Group.

Lastly, in order to improve the quality of the information that the Shareholders' Office supplies, all the queries managed through a call center, web page and mail are computer processed to be able to perform qualitative as well as quantitative analysis, and thus to improve the channels of communication and correct possible deficiencies. The distribution of queries by matters of interest to Telefónica shareholders in 2003 is analysed in the chart Distribution of queries addressed to the shareholder's office call center.

6.2.2 Investor Relations Department

On the other hand, in order to provide personal attention to Institutional Investors, Telefónica has an Investor Relations Department. That department has the most relevant duty of designing and executing the communication programme at Telefónica for the national and international financial markets, in order to publicise and explain the main strategic, organisational, operational and business actions of the Company, as well as to periodically report on the financial results arising from its activity. Through this department, Telefónica informs the financial markets of all necessary relevant information to form expectations on its future performance, thus participating actively to adequate setting of the price of the securities issued by the Company.

In 2003, following the policy of transparency in the communication and disclosure of information to institutional investors and financial analysts, a high level of activity has been maintained through presentations at forums, in holding meetings and conference calls, organisation of road shows in the main financial cities, and in holding the Third Annual Investors' Conference. In this sense, excluding the later, meetings were held throughout 2003 with nearly 350 investment institutions, with the Company management team participating actively in the communication tasks.

The central axis of communication with investors and analysts are the quarterly presentations of results by the Company, in relation to which the Investor Relations department makes a special effort at communication in which it combines the preparation of the Quarterly Report on Results and registration at the CNMV, with conference calls in which the management team analyses the results obtained, that may be followed by telephone or on the Internet (webcast), guaranteeing universal access to the information in real time. The conference calls in 2003 had an total average audience of approximately 190 participants, between telephone calls and the Internet.

The same means and structure are applied to specific conference calls organised to explain relevant strategic operations and decisions to the financial markets, after the appropriate notification to the relevant regulatory bodies. This category includes placement of an issue of bonds amounting to 2,000 Mg completed in the first quarter of 2003.

Within the Company Communication Programme, along with the quarterly presentations of results, one must especially mention the Third Investors' and Analysts' Conference held on 9th and 10th October in Madrid, at which the main landmarks of the Strategic Plan 2004-2006 were reviewed, as presented by the Chairman and Executives of the main business lines of the Telefónica Group. On that occasion, the company gathered more than 280 participants, continuing with the clear trend in improving the quality of the audience as, for the second consecutive year, there was an increase in participation by institutional investors. Another sign of the scope of the Conference was shown by the number of hits on the specific web site designed for that purpose, that received half a million page visits just in the month of October and exceeded 77,000 files downloaded.

The Communication Programme prepared by the Investor Relations department was completed by eight road shows in Europe, the United States and Brazil, in which meetings were held with nearly 200 investors, as well as participation in the main sectorial fixed and variable yield conferences organised by financial institutions in the main European and American cities.

In recognition of the effort at communication made during financial year 2003, the Investor Relations department was named the second best team in the European Telecommunications sector by the Thomson Extel Pan-European Survey, a benchmark survey on the financial markets, in which more than 1,000 listed companies participated, as well as the main investment banks and fund management firms.

Degree of compliance with the corporate governance recommendations

07.01 TELEFONICA, S.A.

The following is an analysis of the degree of compliance with the most relevant recommendations on Corporate Governance at an international level, including those made at Spanish level, in the Report published by the “Special Commission to Study an Ethical Code for the Boards of Directors of the companies: Governance of listed companies”, of 26th February 1998 (Olivencia Code) as well as the Report by the “Special Commission to encourage transparency and security on the markets and listed companies”, of 8th January 2003 (Aldama Report).

Principles of Corporate Governance

Existence of internal provisions to regulate the system of corporate governance.

The fundamental rules of corporate governance of Telefónica are set forth in its Articles of Association and in the Regulations of the Board of Directors. The Regulations of the Board of Directors, as fundamental rules for corporate governance of the Company, determine the principles of action of the Board of Directors, regulate its organisation and operation and set the rules of conduct of its members.

The Board of Directors

Express undertaking by the Board of Directors of the general duties of supervision, as an indelegable task, and establishment of a catalogue of matters reserved for its hearing.

The Regulations of the Board of Directors basically configure it as a body to supervise and control the activity of the Company, delegating management of its ordinary business upon the executive bodies (single person or collegiate) and the management team. Moreover, as established in these Regulations, the Board binds itself to directly exercise certain responsibilities (general strategies, own portfolio policy, implementation and monitoring of internal control systems, etc.)

Composition of the Board of Directors

Operative size of the Board according to the characteristics of the Company.

The Articles of Association of Telefónica foresee that the Board of Directors is comprised of a minimum of five and a maximum of twenty members. The Board of Directors of Telefónica is now comprised of nineteen Directors.

Due to the complexity of the Telefónica Group, the significant number of companies comprising it, the variety of the sectors in which it performs its activities, its multinational nature, as well as its economic and corporate relevance, the size of the Board of Directors is considered adequate and suitable to achieve effective, operational functioning in all cases.

Integration of a reasonable number of independent Directors on the Board.

Majority of Directors external or non executive directors out of the number of executive Directors.

Multinational presence on the Boards of Directors.

Considering the present composition of the present Board of Directors of Telefónica, the principles that govern this composition – established in the Regulations of the Board –, one may conclude that: (a) it has a significant number of independent Directors (eight); (b) the external Directors (proprietary and independent) form an ample majority over the executive ones (fourteen to five); and, (c) it has a very significant share of independent Directors, who are in majority in relation to the proprietary ones (eight to six).

On the other hand, due to the multinational nature of the Telefónica Group, the Board of Directors of the Company has three foreign Directors.

Operation of the Board

Meetings of the Board: frequency, encouraging participation by all the Directors, care in drafting the minutes and annual evaluation of the efficiency of the Board.

To ensure adequate operation of the Board, its meetings are held at least once a month, according to a pre-set calendar, in which the matters on the Agenda will be analysed and discussed. It will be directly supervised by the Secretary who shall especially ensure that the minutes drafted provide a true record of the matters dealt with and, when appropriate, the resolutions passed.

The Company's CEO

If the Board opts for the formula of accumulating both the Chairman and the CEO positions in a single person y, the Company shall adopt the necessary precautions to reduce the risks of concentration of power in a sole person.

The Chairman of the Board of Directors is the CEO of the Company, although according to the terms of the Regulations of the Board of Directors, his actions must comply at all times to the criteria and directives set by the General Shareholders' Meeting and by the Board of Directors and by the Committees reporting to it. Likewise, all resolutions or decisions of special relevance to the Company must previously be submitted for approval by the Board of Directors or relevant control Committee. Moreover, it is necessary to have the reports and proposals by the different Committees of the Board to pass certain resolutions. It is important to point out that the Chairman does have a deciding vote on the Board of Directors.

Secretary to the Board of Directors

Relevance of the figure of the Secretary to the Board, reinforcing his independence and stability, and emphasising his duty to ensure the formal and material legality of the actions by the Board.

The Secretary to the Board has Director status, in order to reinforce his authority on the Board. Pursuant to the terms of the Regulations of the Board, the Secretary has the essential mission of caring in all cases for the formal and material legality of the actions by the Board and to guarantee that its procedures and rules of governance are respected.

The Executive Committee

Existence of an Executive Committee with a similar composition to that of the Board and relations between both based on a principle of transparency.

The relations between the Board of Directors of Telefónica and its Executive Committee are based on a principle of transparency, so the Board has full knowledge of the matters dealt with and the decisions made by this Committee. According to this, those matters are always included as a point on the Agenda to be dealt with at the next meeting of the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors sub-committees

Existence of Board sub-committees comprised exclusively by external Directors, in particular, with responsibility on audit and control matters, and on matters related to appointments and compensation.

The Board of Directors of Telefónica has the sub-committees recommended by the Olivencia Code: an Audit and Control Committee, and a Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, with the competencies that Code attributes them. Also according to this one, these Committees are comprised exclusively of external Directors.

Besides, the Board of Directors considered it convenient to constitute three additional sub-committees: the Regulation Committee, the Human Resources and Corporate Reputation Committee, and the Service Quality and Customer Service Committee. Moreover, in 2003, at its meeting on 26th February, the Board of Directors of the Company resolved to create a sixth Committee, the International Affairs Committee.

Thus, on the date of issue of this Report, there are six Board sub-committees in the Company.

The Directors

Measures to guarantee that the Directors have the necessary information in time and form.

The Company takes the necessary measures to ensure that the Directors have sufficient information enough time in advance, specifically elaborated and aimed at preparing the sessions of the Board and its Committees, without any excuse for non fulfilment, based on the importance or reserved nature of the information – apart from absolutely exceptional circumstances.

Formal, transparent procedure to select Directors, based on a proposal by the Appointments Committee.

The proposals of appointments of Directors always comply with the terms of the Regulations of the Board and are preceded by the relevant favourable report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee.

Existence of regulations that establish the obligation of the Directors to decide in cases that may negatively affect the operation of the Board or the credit and reputation of the Company. Establishment of an upper age to hold office as a Director.

The Regulations of the Board make it obligatory for Directors to resign in cases that may negatively affect the operation of the Board or the credit and reputation of the Company. On the other hand, pursuant to the Regulations of the Board, the Directors must hand in their resignation and formalise the relevant resignation when they reach the age of seventy (70). Executive Directors shall resign from executive office at the age of sixty five (65), although they may remain as Directors, if the Board so decides.

Regulation of the obligations arising from the general duties of diligence and loyalty of the Directors considering, in particular, the situation of conflict of interest, the duty of confidentiality, taking advantage of business opportunities and the use of corporate assets.

According to the recommendations made in the Olivencia Code and in the Aldama Report, the Regulations of the Board provide a specific title for this, formed by twelve articles, to describe the range of rights and obligations of the Directors. This title details the details that arise from the obligations of diligence and loyalty of the Directors, considering, in particular, the situation of conflicts of interest, the duty of confidentiality, in particular, the situation of conflicts of interest, the duty of confidentiality, taking advantage of business opportunities and use of corporate assets.

Recognition of the rights of Directors to obtain information and establishment of channels to exercise them.

The Regulations of the Board formally recognise the rights of all Directors to gather and obtain the necessary information and advice to fulfil their duties of supervision, and establish the appropriate channels to exercise that right, enabling even resorting to external experts under special circumstances.

The Director compensation policy is adequate and fits the criteria of moderation, which must be proposed, evaluated and reviewed by the Compensation Committee, and detailed, individual information must be provided.

As to the policy of retribution of the Directors, it is proposed, evaluated and reviewed by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee, and complies with criteria of moderation. The Company provides annual information on the compensation received by the holders of offices or posts on the Board. Moreover, in line with the Aldama Report, the external Directors shall not participate in any compensation scheme linked to the listed value of the shares.

Measures to extend the duties of loyalty to the significant shareholders and top management.

Lastly, the duties of loyalty to the significant shareholders is extended, foreseeing that the Board reserves the right to examine and authorise any transaction between the Company and any of its significant shareholders. Under no circumstances will the transaction be approved without a prior report by the Nominating, Compensation and Corporate Governance Committee evaluating the operation from the point of view of equal treatment of the shareholders and their conditions, which must be those of the market. On the other hand, and in line with the Aldama Report, the Company has extended the obligations arising from the duty to loyalty of the top management, through what is set forth in the Internal Rules of Conduct in matters of conflict of interest.

Relations of the Board with the markets

Quick, precise, reliable information for the markets, and establishment to that end of procedures and controls for communication of the information within the Company.

Periodic financial information prepared according to the same principles and professional practices as the annual accounts and verified by the Audit Committee.

Duty of information and transparency, (especially in matters of corporate governance).

The Regulations of the Board assign several articles to regulating the channels through which relations are established between the Board of Directors and the shareholders of the Company so it may thus ensure the greatest possible transparency in those relations.

Beyond the requisites set in the by-laws in force, the Board of Directors of Telefónica, has committed itself to providing the markets with precise, reliable information. In particular, the periodic financial information of the Company, just as expressly recorded in the Regulations of the Board, is prepared according to the same principles and professional practices as the annual accounts, and before being disclosed, is verified by the Audit and Control Committee, according to the functions that Committee is attributed.

Moreover, in line with the recommendations of the Aldama Report, the Company provides the market all the information that may be considered relevant to the investors, in a symmetrical, equitable manner. According to the obligations established under the new Financial Act, the Company issues communications of relevant information to the National Stock Exchange Commission, prior to its diffusion by any other means, as soon as the fact is known, or as soon as the decision has been taken, or the agreement or contract is signed with the third parties concerned. The Company ensures that its communication of relevant information is true, clear and complete at all times.

In matters of transparency in corporate governance, and in line with the recommendations put forward in the Aldama Report, as during last financial year 2002, Telefónica has prepared a specific Report on corporate governance. In the same line, the Company has set up a web page on Corporate Governance, that includes, among others, the content suggested by the Aldama Report (Articles of Association, internal regulations of the Company, periodic financial information, composition of the Board of Directors and its sub-committees, etc.).

Relations of the Board with the external auditors

Establishment of measures to monitor the independence of the external auditors.

Through the Audit and Control Committee, the Board of Directors has established a stable, professional relation with the Accounts Auditor to the company, with strict respect for its independence, in addition to fulfil the recommendations to that end in the Olivencia Code. According to this, the Audit and Control Committee monitors situations that may be a risk to the independence of the External Auditors of the Company and, specifically, supervises the percentage of fees it is paid in relation to the total revenue of the audit firm.

Lastly, it reports on the Company annual report, pursuant to the legal requisites in force, on the fees paid to the External Auditor to the Company including those related to non-audit services.

In fulfilment of the legal requisites established by the United States by-laws on this matter, and in line with the Aldama Report, the audit and related services provided by the External Auditor to the Company must have prior approval by the Audit y Control Committee.

The General Shareholders' Meeting

Measures that make the mechanism to delegate votes more transparent and encourage communication by the Company with the shareholder.

In order to provide for and make it possible for any shareholder to exercise the right to information, the proposals of resolutions submitted for approval by the Meeting and the documents and required reports related to them are made available to the shareholders, on the terms and conditions of the Stock Company Act, from when the announcements calling the Meeting are published.

Likewise, the Company attends, as far as possible, to requests for information related to matters included on the Agenda of the General Shareholders' Meeting that are raised by any shareholder, in the days prior to holding the Meeting, as at the actual Meeting, the agenda of which expressly includes a turn for the shareholders to speak, during which all the shareholders attending the Meeting who so wish may express themselves, and their interventions will always be replied to by the Chairman of the Company.

As to the right to attend and vote at the General Shareholders' Meeting, the Company facilitates exercise of those rights as much as possible, always within the framework set in the applicable laws in force and the Articles of Association, especially that of representation of shareholders at the General Shareholders' Meeting, which may be granted in favour of any person, although not a shareholder.

According to the demands of the Spanish mercantile laws, the documentation related to the points on the Agenda are available to all the shareholders at the Company registered office, and they may apply to have it sent to them free of charge. The same information is also available to all shareholders on the Company web page.
