When AI requires a trust technology partner: Telefónica

Veolia needed more than technology

Control, scalability and a long-term vision

Our challenge

Fragmented customer service amid growing interactions and multiple channels

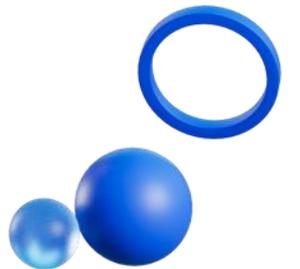

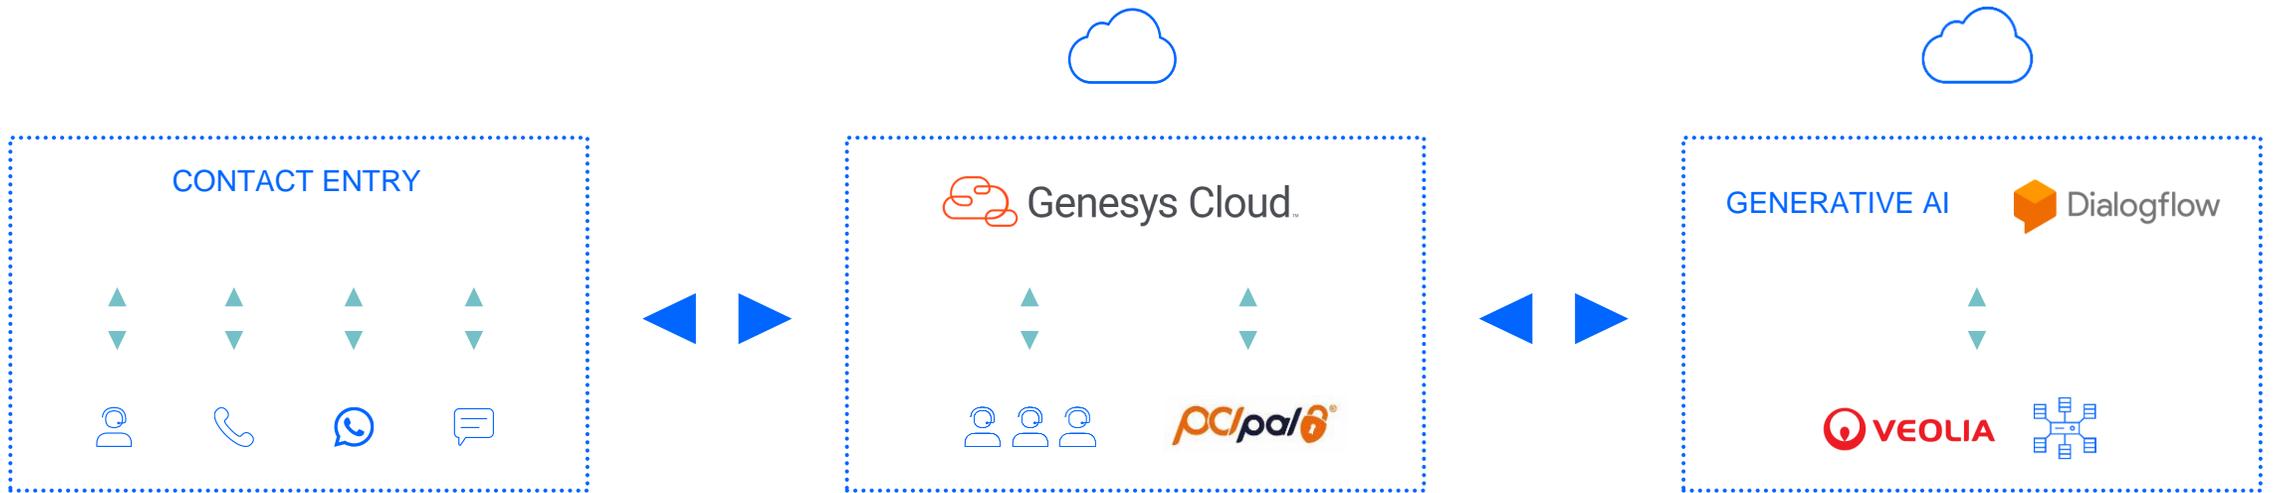

Strategic decision

Choose a partner able to orchestrate people, processes and technology

Telefónica's key role

01. Centralize and orchestrate all interactions
02. Progressive integrate traditional and generative AI
03. Keep knowledge and control within Veolia
04. Scale operations without compromising service quality

Veolia's architecture

Generative AI: from potential to real value

Generative AI

Generative AI applied only where it delivers real value

Automation

Automation already in place: document verification and intelligent contact routing

Evolution

Progressive evolution: combining traditional and generative AI depending on the use case

Collaboration

Close collaboration with Telefónica, working side by side on implementation
